Introduction:

“What exactly is notebooking? It is the act of recording and organizing what one is learning in a permanent and attractive way. The process of chronicling information discovered in one’s studies is a hands-on process that I call active learning. The expression “What you perform – you remember” is a truth that parents and teachers have utilized for years. Notebooking is an effective, hands-on method of documenting research.”*

Notebooking is a valuable educational tool. It requires students to think beyond simply reading new information and encourages them to interact with—and respond to—the information they are learning in a personal and age-appropriate manner. Although notebooking can be completed in a simple spiral-bound volume, many parents and students find it encouraging to have some “guided” notebooking pages, with writing prompts and other helpful ideas. This is what you will find in the following pages.

Each lesson in All American History has between 1-3 notebooking pages. If you print them out one lesson at a time, make sure you have selected all the necessary pages. The figures of the presidents needed for these pages can be found in either the Teacher’s Guide or the Student Activity Book.

What happened to Leif Eriksson and his men during their expedition to Norway? They were introduced to Christianity in King Olav's court. Some sources say that Leif and his men accepted the Gospel and agreed to be baptized.

List the three landing sites of Leif and his men during their voyages of exploration.

1. Helluland - either present-day Baffin Island or Newfoundland
2. Markland - either present-day Labrador or Nova Scotia
3. Vinland - either present-day Newfoundland or Cape Cod

How did Leif get his nickname, Leif the Lucky? He rescued fifteen sailors stranded on a reef.

Did the Vikings start a colony on any of the lands that Leif discovered? They tried to start one on Vinland but did not succeed.

London Company: company that planned an expedition of three English ships (carrying one hundred men and boys) to Virginia

King James I: English ruler for whom the colonists named a river and their settlement (James Towne)

Reason why the Jamestown colonists didn't plant crops:

They were too preoccupied by their search for gold.

Captain John Smith: Smith was elected by the Jamestown settlers to be president of their council. He led scouting expeditions for food and badly needed supplies, made friends with the Native Americans, and learned how to plant corn the Indian way.

John Smith's rule for the colonists: "He that will not work shall not eat."
